

I would like to ask when and who decided that calling ones home to sell something, would be considered free speech?

As far as I'm concern, that is invasion of the privacy of my home. I guess, my caller ID will be my best friend now. No call without a name/ number will be answered here.

RAD